

Are you missing out on sales?

LET'S LOOK AT HOW YOU MANAGE LEADS

You buy leads and feed them into your CRM. You've programmed some static rules to evaluate and distribute leads to salespeople.

But like many other sales teams, this system rarely works better than distributing leads randomly, round robin.

Your sales team could be closing more sales with dynamic, intelligent optimization and automation of your lead management systems.

Lead buying alone isn't enough

What are you hoping to gain when you invest in leads?

1. You buy thousands of leads
2. You pay for sales opportunities
3. You receive thousands of rich data points

But if that lead data is left static, it's going to underperform.

CRM and lead management systems without an integrated, intelligent decision-support platform that are driven by static rules and reports, are quickly becoming obsolete.

LEAD SCORING • SALES AGENT GRADING • LEAD ASSIGNMENT • PRIORITIZATION • SALES AUTOMATION

You need this competitive advantage

Artificial intelligence and machine learning is a sales innovator's strategic differentiator.

In six months to a year, this will be table stakes, and first-movers will have the advantage. ProPair provides the production-ready decision support technology to help you get ahead.

- Optimize your leads in ways you couldn't possibly analyze and act on manually
- Make decisions based on data rather than theories, best guesses, gut checks, or bias
- Redirect your time back into supporting sales ops and selling
- Use production-ready tools that are here waiting for you to start
